ANTARCTICA & South America Cruise

Join us on board the stately MS Zaandam to cruise the spectacular southern South American coastline.

MS Zaandam

Designed to carry fewer guests while providing more space for maximum comfort, MS Zaandam is a prize in the mid-size ship category. Offering spacious public areas and plush accommodations, many staterooms have private verandahs.

The musically themed Zaandam offers a unique shipboard atmosphere. Inspired by the world's great music, artefacts and memorabilia from a variety of musical genres decorate the ship. You'll find musical instruments such as Bill Clinton's saxophone and signed guitars from Queen, Iggy Pop, Eric Clapton and the Rolling Stones used as art objects throughout the ship. At the heart of Zaandam, in a soaring three-storey atrium with a Baroque-style Dutch pipe organ, inspired by the traditional barrel organs still found on the streets of The Netherlands.

A voyage on the MS Zaandam is a unique experience to be savoured and remembered.

Optional Pre-cruise Tour Iguazu Falls & Rio de Janeiro

1 – 6 January, 2019

Optional Post-cruise Tour Cusco and Machu Picchu Lost City of the Incas

30 January – 4 February 2019

Optional Pre-cruise Tour

Iguazu Falls & Rio de Janeiro

Taller than Niagara Falls, twice as wide with 275 cascades spread in a horseshoe shape over nearly two miles of the Iguazu River, the rate of flow of water going over the Iguazu Falls may reach 12,750 cubic metres per second. These matter of fact details do nothing to describe the awe inspiring grandeur of the falls, the tremendous amount of water thundering down 82 metres, the tropical location and the sheer beauty of the Iguazu Falls. Take a helicopter ride out over the falls from Foz do Iguaçu or a boat ride out to the falls. See the spectacular Devil's Throat, garganta del diablo, where fourteen falls drop 107 metres with such force that there is always a 30 metre cloud of spray overhead. For a close up view, walk through the subtropical forest of National Iguaçu Park to the base of Salto Floriano and take the elevator to the top of the falls.

DAY 1 Tuesday January 1, 2019

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Today we board for a flight to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. As we cross the International Date-Line we will arrive in Rio de Janeiro on the same day that we depart. After clearing Customs we will be transferred to our hotel. We will have free time to relax. Rio has one of the most spectacular settings of any city in the world. This tropical cocktail paradise can leave you punch-drunk. It is a little cheeky, but according to Brazilians, God made the world in 6 days and devoted the 7th to Rio!

DAY 2 Wednesday January 2, 2019

Rio de Janeiro

Today will be stunningly spectacular – definitely check your camera before you leave! Visits to the world famous Impanema and Copacabana beaches will be followed by a visit to Rio's modern Cathedral, the 17th century Saint Benedict Monastery's Church, Sambadrome, home to the famous carnival parade and 250 year old artistic bohemian neighbourhood of Santa Tereza. Our guide will take us on a memorable visit to the thrilling Corcovado, a mountain 710 metres above sea level, with a sheer granite face topped with the prodigious Cristo Redentor statue, rising more than 130 feet and weighing more than 635 tonnes. A rack-and-pinion train will take us to the statue which in 2007 was declared one of the New Seven Wonders of the World and will provide magnificent 360 degree views. We then take the two-stage cable car, spanning 1,400 metres, to Sugar Loaf Mountain, a massive granite boulder 396 metres above the harbour for another amazing view.

DAY 3 Thursday January 3, 2019

Rio de Janeiro

Today will be a free day for some sightseeing and shopping.

DAY 4 Friday January 4, 2019

Iguazu Falls, Argentina

This morning we arrive at the Iguazu National Park, (Brazil side) on the border of Argentina and Brazil and coach across to the Argentina side where we will spend the next two days exploring one of nature's great wonders of the world. Upon arrival we are transferred to our hotel. Be prepared to get wet as our guide takes us on a tour of the falls. We will probably see some of the 2,000 species of butterflies that inhabit the park as we take the new Eco electric train around the top of the falls to see the Devil's Throat, a u-shaped cliff, 150 metres wide and 700 metres long, where the fall of water is impressive for its staggering strength and power. We experience the Gran Aventura consisting of a fantastic open wagon trip through the jungle that finishes with an exciting boat ride up to the falls. Today will be a wonderful opportunity to view the extensive range of wild flowers, orchids and bromeliads within the park. Legend has it that a god intended to marry a beautiful aborigine called Naipu, who then fled in a canoe with her mortal lover. The angry god then sliced the river in two, creating the waterfalls and condemning the lovers to an eternal fall.

DAY 5 Saturday January 5, 2019

Iguazu Falls

We travel by coach across the border to Brazil today. Our guide takes us on an exhilarating walking tour on the Brazilian side of the Iguazu Falls, where many observation decks provide breathtaking panoramic views. Our tour will conclude on a platform literally within a hands reach of the falls, whilst an adjacent elevator can take us up to a viewing tower. Undoubtedly one of the greatest natural phenomena on our planet, Eleanor Roosevelt allegedly said that Iguazu makes Niagara Falls look like a "leaky faucet". The pounding of nearly 300 waterfalls with heights averaging 70 meters is deafening – remember to bring the ear-plugs! The remainder of the day is at leisure.

DAY 6 Sunday January 6, 2019

Buenos Aires, Argentina

Today we have free time to walk around the Falls area or relax in the hotel before we depart Iguazu for Buenos Aires, known as the "Paris of South America" to join the main tour group. Before arriving at the airport we drive through the town of Iguazu to visit the point where we get a wonderful view across the Iguazu River and see three countries Argentina, Brazil and Paraguay.

ANTARCTICA

& South America Cruise

Join us on board the stately MS Zaandam to cruise the spectacular southern South American coastline and Antarctica.

DAY 1 Sunday January 6, 2019

Buenos Aires, Argentina

Today we board our flight to Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina. As we cross the International Date-Line we will arrive on the same date that we depart Australia. After clearing Customs we will be transferred to our hotel, with free time to relax.

DAY 2 Monday January 7, 2019

Buenos Aires

Buenos Aires has been dubbed the "Paris of South America." One writer described it as having "seductive charm." On our tour of this fascinating, South American city, we travel down 9 de Julio Avenue – said to be the widest avenue in the world, passing some of the city's important buildings – the famous Colon Opera House, the Obelisk, commemorating the founding of the city in 1536, to get to Plaza de Mayo, Government House, the Metropolitan Cathedral, with the mausoleum of General Jose de San Martin – one of Argentina's greatest independence heroes and political leaders. From there, we head into La Boca, intriguingly, a "typically Italian" quarter where Argentina's first Italian immigrants settled. These days it's known for its colourful houses, tango-dancing and its soccer team. We continue our tour to the city's port area and onto Palermo Chico, a "cool" residential district with plenty of cafés, bars, restaurants, galleries, shops and artisan markets. Our tour ends in the elegant Recoleta district and a visit to the tomb of "Evita" – the infamous late Eva Peron.

DAY 3 Tuesday January 8, 2019 Buenos Aires

Today we visit to a ranch on the Pampas, South America's fertile grassland plains – to experience some of the heritage of this country, including an authentic Argentinean BBQ – arguably a BBQ like no other in the world. We also see a group of Gauchos (legendary Argentinean cowboys) show us their prowess at throwing bolas (balls connected by strong cord used to catch cattle) and, lassoing. Originally, gauchos roamed most of Argentina and also much of Brazil and Uruguay. There's an entire genre of dances, folktales, songs and even words exclusive to the gaucho culture. Later we will be transferred to the port to board the MS Zaandam. We don't depart until the following evening, making it possible to go ashore to explore the exuberant night life of enthralling Buenos Aires.

DAY 4 Wednesday January 9, 2019 Buenos Aires

A free day to enjoy, relax and shop in the city. This evening, join fellow group members at our welcome drinks to celebrate the start of our fabulous adventure to Antarctica.

DAY 5 Thursday January 10, 2019 Montevideo, Uruguay

Today, we arrive in Montevideo, the capital of Uruguay, often referred to as the "Switzerland of South America." Geographically, Lonely Planet cleverly described this small country as "wedged like a grape between Brazil's gargantuan thumb and Argentina's long forefinger." We have a sightseeing tour of the city with its blend of traditional and European architecture. We will visit the Old Town of Ciudad Vieja, the city's cultural heart.

DAY 6 Friday January 11, 2019 At sea

A day at sea to enjoy the facilities of the ship.

DAY 7 Saturday January 12, 2019 Puerto Madryn, Argentina

Today we tie up at Puerto Madryn in the mind-boggling region of Patagonia, in the province of Chubut. Taking in both Argentina and Chile, at 'the south of the world', Patagonia is one of those places that has the lot – immense natural beauty; vast plains, forests, lakes, snow-capped mountains, fertile valleys, ocean shores and glaciers! We will visit nearby Peninsula Valdés, a wildlife sanctuary for birds and marine species, including rheas, oystercatchers, flamingos, egrets, whales, elephant seals, sea lions and many other species of wildlife. In addition, Puerto Madryn itself has an interesting history. Long after Spanish explorers landed, this area was settled by Welsh colonists.

DAY 8 Sunday January 13, 2019 At sea

Today we have a day at sea to enjoy the facilities of the ship.

DAY 9 Monday January 14, 2019 Stanley, Falkland Islands

Today, we arrive in Stanley, the capital of an archipelago of more than 700 islands that make up the Falklands, located off the east coast of South America. This quaint seaside town is dotted with colourfully painted houses, small shops and restaurants and a truly unique scenic landscape. On our sightseeing tour we will see the traditional British charm that is preserved in this overseas territory of the United Kingdom. We will see Stanley House, the only brick house in town and Government House, the home of the islands' governor and beautiful flower gardens. We also take in some sights from the nasty 10-week Falklands conflict in 1982.

DAY 10 Tuesday January 15, 2019 At sea

Today we have a day at sea to enjoy the facilities of the ship.

DAY 11 Wednesday January 16, 2019 Antarctic Sound

After 10 absorbing days of travel and on-board relaxing, we're in the Antarctic, starting with Antarctic Sound, a body of water about 50kms long and anything from 11 to 19kms wide. Cruise ships have been visiting this part of Antarctica for more than 10 years; The Sound separates the Joinville Island group from the northeast end of the Antarctic Peninsula.

DAY 12 Thursday January 17, 2019 Antarctic Sound

As we continue south we begin to pass one iceberg then another. On board over these few days viewing the Antarctic region, expert lectures are on offer for those who prefer to stay indoors. Or, despite the potentially icy winds, you may find it hard to resist the lure of remaining outdoors all day to absorb the beauty of this area.

DAY 13 Friday January 18, 2019 The Danco Coast, Antarctica

A highlight of the trip – the mainland of Antarctica! View the spectacular Antarctic scenery of icebergs and ice-covered mountains rising out of the ocean. The Danco Coast is the portion of the west coast of the Antarctic Peninsula between Cape Sterneck and Cape Renard. This coast was first explored in 1898 by a Belgian expedition who named it after Emile Danco, who died during the expedition. History is easier to comprehend as we witness this rugged geography.

DAY 14 Saturday January 19, 2019 The Palmer Archipelago, Antarctica

Today, we see the first islands in Antarctica –the scenery is spectacular! We cruise through the Palmer Archipelago, also known as Antarctic Archipelago, a group of islands off the north-western coast of the Antarctic Peninsula. It extends from Tower Island in the north to Anvers Island in the south and is separated by the Gerlache and Bismarck Straits.

DAY 15 Sunday January 20, 2019 At sea

Today we have a day at sea to enjoy the facilities of the ship.

DAY 16 Monday January 21, 2019 Cape Horn, Argentina

We continue our journey through Drake Passage, then around the bottom of South America, past the tip of the continent. This deep waterway connects the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Cape Horn – the southernmost tip of South America – remains a maritime legend. Sailing around this remote point has always been regarded as one of the most challenging nautical routes on the planet with big seas and unpredictable conditions.

DAY 17 Tuesday January 22, 2019 Ushuaia, Argentina

This morning we arrive in Ushuaia, for all the obvious reasons known as the "City on the bottom of the World". Located on the island of Tierra del Fuego ("Land of Fire"), it's a breathtaking landscape, known for its plains surrounded by snow-capped mountains. After disembarking, we take a sightseeing tour of the city and the surrounding Tierra del Fuego National Park to marvel at its endless nature and ever-changing geography. We cruise through Cockburn Channel – a strait in the Tierra del Fuego Archipelago on the extreme southern tip of South America, partly in Chile and partly in Argentina. We then enter Beagle Channel (with its tell-tale Charles Darwin connections) about 240 kilometres long and at its narrowest point only about 5 kilometres wide. It extends east to Darwin Sound and Cook Bay in the west. Glacier Alley is literally embedded in the Darwin Range on the north-west arm of the Beagle Channel. From a lookout at Pia Glacier, we have a spectacular view of the entire glacier tongue, stretching from high in the mountains all the way to the sea. Prepare to hear thunderous noises caused by large masses of ice cracking and dropping into the bay. Weather permitting; we will sail past glaciers such as Italia, Holanda, Alemania, Francia and Romanche, among others.

DAY 18 Wednesday January 23, 2019 Punta Arenas, Chile

This morning we arrive in Punta Arenas, Chile's most southerly city with a rich sheep farming history, as it is surrounded by Patagonian grazing plains. On our tour we explore the town lined by the impressive townhouses of the sheep barons and the tree-lined Plaza de Armas Square and La Cruz Hill. Back on board, we cruise through the Straits of Magellan, a 580km strait named for the Portuguese explorer, Ferdinand Magellan, who famously discovered a way to circumnavigate the globe. We'll retrace Magellan's route as we make the only natural crossing available between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans – with the notable alternative, of course, being the mechanised Panama Canal, far to the north of South America, in Central America!

DAY 19 Thursday January 24, 2019 Chilean Fjords & Canal Samiento

The goal of these two days of cruising is to sight the Amalia Glacier, which is a highlight of the memorable few days of natural beauty all around us. In the central Southern Patagonian Ice Fields, the Amalia descends from the Andes Mountains and sits towering above the sea (and us). Here's a bit of fascinating natural science – the glacier's immense weight causes the oxygen to be pressed out of the ice, giving it a startlingly beautiful crystalline appearance. Amalia is hailed as one of three spectacular glaciers that are genuine once-in-a-lifetime sights. Cruising through the Tierra del Fuego gives us a chance to witness what some observers have poetically described as the "ethereal blue" glaciers of Canal Sarmiento.

DAY 20 Friday January 25, 2019

Chilean Fjords

Today, we continue cruising through the Chilean Fjords stretching from the Strait of Magellan to Puerto Montt, some of the most magnificent fjords in the world. As your eyes work their way up the jagged walls of mammoth glaciers, you may also be rewarded with an Andean condor sighting. As you're probably aware, the condor is the largest flying bird in the world! On the ocean's surface, the Magellan penguins always put on a good show.

DAY 21 Saturday January 26, 2019

Puerto Chacabuco, Chile

Along the wild western coast of Chile's fjord land, 400kms south of Puerto Montt, Patagonian ice-sheets fall into the sea in neon blue splendour. One of the last frontiers, there are few such remote and underdeveloped places left on this battling planet than Puerto Chacabuco. On our tour, we'll also enjoy the Rio Simpson National Reserve 37kms west of the town Coyhaique, providing us with yet another opportunity to enjoy Chile's remote natural beauty – canyon rivers, valleys, beaches, waterfalls and forests. Getting close to the end of our South American journey, Coyhaique also has a craft market selling handmade items.

DAY 22 Sunday January 27, 2019

Castro, Isla Chiloe, Chile

Today we arrive at Castro on the Isla Chiloe. Although it's only a 30-minute ferry crossing away from mainland Chile across the Chacao Channel, verdant Isla Chiloe is the largest in the Chiloe archipelago and we will visit some of its cluster of wooden churches with UNESCO World Heritage status. Traditional local houses on stilts are called palafitos and they dot the island's shores. Nearby Chiloe National Park is a natural biosphere sheltering foxes, sea lions and otters.

DAY 23 Monday January 28, 2019

Puerto Montt, Chile

This morning we wake cruising Reloncavi Sound, a body of water located immediately south of Puerto Montt, Chile, the place where geologists tell us the "Intermediate Depression" falls into the Pacific Ocean. It's also an ideal place to catch a glimpse of three volcanoes, Mounts Oorno, Calbuco and in the distance, Puntagudo. Arriving in Puerto Montt, the heart of the Chilean Lakes District, we'll tour the surrounding lake region – another unspoiled Chilean national park.

DAY 24 Tuesday January 29, 2019

At sea

This is our last day at sea, one to relax and enjoy the facilities of our "temporary floating South American home"!

DAY 25 Wednesday January 30, 2019

Santiago, Chile

After disembarking, we will take a tour of Chile's capital city, Santiago; including the Civic Centre, La Moneda Presidential Palace, the Plaza de Armas and the main square. We'll head towards the Bellavista district, home to many of Santiago's artisans, that is lined with galleries, open-air cafés and restaurants. The lookout on San Cristobal Hill, its tallest peak, has a wonderful panoramic view of the city. Later, we will be transferred to the airport for our return flight to Australia.

DAY 26 Thursday January 31, 2019

In flight

DAY 27 Friday February 1, 2019

Arrival Australia

Having crossed the International Date Line east to west we lose a day and arrive in Australia today. What an unforgettable geographic and cultural journey!

Cusco and Machu Picchu

Lost City of the Incas

Peru has a history that traces back to a time before the Egyptians were building pyramids at Giza, and Machu Picchu is one of the most visited attractions in South America. Situated between the crest of two mountains along the Peruvian Andes at more than 2,400 metres above sea level, the almost intact remains of an ancient culture consisting of alcoves, terraces, plazas, and temples make this ancient city the premiere archaeological site of South America. Marvel at the Lost City of the Incas, the Sacsaywaman fortress, the Temple of the Sun, & the Temple of Wiracocha. A visit to Machu Picchu is not complete without also visiting Cusco, the oldest continuously inhabited city in South America and often referred to as "The Archaeological Capital of America". The ruins of the old Inca city became the foundation for the Spanish architecture that exists today. Walking through the narrow streets you can't help but feel the history that surrounds you.

DAY 1 Wednesday January 30, 2019

Lima, Peru

This morning we are transferred to the airport for our flights to flight to Lima. On arrival we will be transferred to our hotel.

Today we take a tour to the Sacred Valley of the Incas outside Cusco. DAY 4 Saturday February 2, 2019

Cusco, Peru

Today we have a sightseeing tour of the historic city of Cusco, the ancient capital of the Incas. You will see the enormous monolith blocks of stone out of which the city has been constructed. We will visit the centre of the city, the Plaza de Armas, known in Inca times as Huancaypata, once the centre of the Empire. We will see the cathedral that was built on the Palace of Inca Viracocha. We see the Santo Domingo Church that was once the Temple of the Sun, the most important and magnificent religious complex under the Incas. The walls, which mainly still exist, were covered with gold. We will also see the ancient monolithic fortress of Sacsayhuaman, where one of the last battles between the Incas and Spanish took place.

DAY 5 Sunday February 3, 2019

Machu Picchu, Peru

Today we visit the famed UNESCO World Heritage site – the lost city of Machu Picchu. Discovered by the archaeologist Hiram Bingham in 1911, this spectacular ancient city is one of the Seven Wonders of the World. You will be in the presence of one of the most powerful and mysterious places on earth.
